welcome to the 33rd miami book fair!

Miami Book Fair is more than a great festival; it's a community brought together by shared passion for books and reading, and for making Miami a great place to live. This year, celebrate Caribbean literature with our first dedicated program, ReadCaribbean; and stop by The Kitchen's new location at the southeast corner of N.E. 3rd Street and 2nd Avenue to learn masterful techniques as our chef-authors whip up deliciousness. And don't forget our long-running programs celebrating literature in Spanish, children's and YA books, and comics, or The Porch, the Fair's most chill spot, featuring all kinds of edgy and eclectic literary performances, live bands and DJs, drinks and grub, and lots other offbeat fun.

The Fair has been making culture in Miami since 1984, always true to its founding principles of inclusion, so that anyone, from anywhere, can participate in the culture of ideas. All of us at Miami Book Fair—from founders Dr. Eduardo J. Padrón and Mitchell Kaplan, to staff, to volunteers—feel great pride in the Fair's role as cultural and civic standard-bearer, but even more pride in the Fair's role in uniting community. We are grateful to everyone who comes together to make this Fair happen year after year—everyone at Miami Dade College, the booksellers at Books & Books, the Friends of the Fair, the authors and their publishers, and especially to The John S. and James L. Knight Foundation for its continued support of the Fair. We would also like to thank a few of our other generous sponsors, including OHL-Arellano Construction, The Batchelor Foundation, The de Groot Foundation and the Green Family Foundation. With the support of these organizations and many other loyal sponsors, we are able to offer programs and events that celebrate stories and the people who live them, and imagine them, write them, and tell them. Because when we celebrate stories, we celebrate life.

Welcome to the 33rd Miami Book Fair, and thank you for helping us build community, one reader at a time.

Miami Book Fair Co-Directors
Delia Lopez and Lisette Mendez

This year's poster artist is also an ambassador!

Gene Luen Yang's groundbreaking first book, American Born Chinese, won an Eisner Award, became the first graphic novel to be nominated for a National Book Award, and the first to win the American Library Association's Printz Award. Yang followed up with Boxers & Saints, a two-volume graphic novel about the Boxer Rebellion, which was nominated for a National Book Award and won the L.A. Times Book Prize. Earlier this year, the Library of Congress, Every Child a Reader, and the Children's Book Council, appointed Yang as the National Ambassador for Young People's Literature. In September, he was awarded a MacArthur Genius Grant.

new for 2016!

ReadCaribbean

Miami has emerged as the unofficial crossroads of the Caribbean, which is why the Fair has always included the most prominent writers from the region. This year, the Fair formalizes this focus by establishing ReadCaribbean, a program featuring extensive Caribbean-specific events, including readings and panel discussions, children’s writers to inspire young readers, book signings, storytelling and music, plus publishers at the Street Fair. When appropriate, author events will take place in Creole (with simultaneous translation into English). For all things Caribbean, look for the ☀️.

ReadCaribbean programs created in partnership with Sosyete Koukouy, Bocas Lit Fest, and ReadJamaica with the support of The John S. and James L. Knight Foundation.

A very special thank you to Jan Mapou, Myrtha Wroy, Jerry Delince, and Cergine Cator, members of Sosyete Koukouy and collaborators in Miami Book Fair’s ReadCaribbean programs. Established in 1985, Sosyete Koukouy, Inc. (Sos-ye-te Koo-Kouy) is dedicated to preserving Haitian culture in the United States through education and arts and cultural presentations. Their mission is the preservation, perpetuation, and presentation of Haitian cultural performances and exhibitions to Creole and non-Creole speaking audiences.

Thomas Jefferson is often portrayed as a hopelessly enigmatic figure — a man so riven with contradictions that he is almost impossible to know. In Most Blessed of the Patriarchs: Thomas Jefferson and the Empire of the Imagination (Liveright), Pulitzer Prize and National Book Award-winning historian Annette Gordon-Reed and Jefferson scholar Peter S. Onuf present an absorbing and revealing character study that dispels the many clichés that have accrued over the years about our third president. Through careful analysis, painstaking research, and vivid prose, Gordon-Reed and Onuf create a portrait of Jefferson as he might have painted himself.

Whether you're the parent of a child just learning her ABC's or a teenager in love with the hottest fantasy series, Miami Book Fair has something for you. For more than three decades, the Fair has been committed to fostering a love of reading in children. Why? Because studies show what we all know — good readers become good students, lifelong learners, and great citizens.

GENERATION GENIUS gathers all of the Fair's literacy and learning programs for children and teens under one banner. All year long, Miami Book Fair's Generation Genius programs, such as Read to Learn Books for Free and StoryArts, distribute thousands of free children's books around Miami-Dade and Broward counties.

- On Friday, November 18, GENERATION GENIUS SCHOOL FIELD TRIPS bring nearly 10,000 schoolkids from all over Miami-Dade County to the Fair to meet their favorite authors (some leave with free books!).
- TWEENS AND TEENS will find a lineup of bestselling authors in fantasy, action, horror, and graphic novels.
- MR. WEMBLY WORDSMITH returns to his AUTHOR TENT in Children's Alley with his new lineup of children's authors!
- Catch even more authors, along with music, dancers, storytellers and more at the ONCE UPON A TIME STAGE in Children's Alley.
- Illustrate books, travel through space, and dig for fossils—it's all happening in the POP-UP FUN ROOMS in Children's Alley.
