welcome to the 35TH miami book fair! | 35

When our first Fair launched at Miami Dade College (MDC) in 1984, Miami Book Fair (MBF) was but the seed of a daring dream to establish Miami as a global hub for literature, a place where authors, publishers, and artists could convene, meaningfully collaborate, and reach diverse publics.

Since then, we have worked tirelessly to realize that vision of an inclusive, attentive, sustainable community of writers, readers, and collaborators across all disciplines and cultures in South Florida. Along the way, MDC's MBF became the beating heart of literary culture in South Florida, an internationally-respected literary phenomenon.

None of this would be possible without careful planning on our part, or the committed support and generous contributions of people like you. That is why last year our staff completed a comprehensive strategic plan, ensuring the Fair's continued success and ability to serve the community for many more years to come.

To celebrate three and a half decades of MBF, we are implementing our newly formed strategic plan, and launching several new and exciting programs, such as:

- THE EMERGING WRITERS NATIONAL FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM, aimed at increasing equity and representation in the literary sector by supporting new literary voices.
- SPEAK UP, a teen initiative focused on supporting the artistic, personal, and professional growth of teenagers in Miami-Dade County by offering creative writing workshops, quarterly open mics, and a youth slam poetry program.
- 305 GENIUS FACTORY, a multidisciplinary creative writing program and learning center to empower under-resourced children and teens.
- WORLD IN TRANSLATION, a series of cultural events and activities designed to expand the audience for works in translation, exposing South Floridians and visitors to an even greater range of international authors.

We look forward to working with you to deepen the Fair's impact on the community. Together, we can ensure the success and sustainability of your Miami Book Fair for many years to come. To make a donation, or learn more about our strategic plan, and how you can support the Fair's new endeavors, please contact Corey Lewis, MBF Corporate Relations and Donations Manager at 305.237.7847 or clewis@mdc.edu.

One of today's leading African writers and scholars, Kenyan-born NGŪGĪ WA THIONG'O's Wrestling with the Devil: A Prison Memoir (The New Press) is the unforgettable chronicle of the year this brilliant novelist and memoirist, long favored for the Nobel Prize, was thrown in a Kenyan jail without charge. There, he lives in a prison block with eighteen other political prisoners, quarantined from the general prison population. He captures not only the excruciating pain that comes from being cut off from his wife and children, but also the spirit of defiance that defines hope. Ultimately, Wrestling with the Devil is a testimony to the power of imagination to help humans break free of confinement, which is truly the story of all art.

APRIL RYAN has been a White House correspondent since 1997 and is the Washington, D.C., Bureau Chief for the American Urban Radio Networks. In addition, she can be seen almost daily as a political analyst for CNN. She has been featured in Vogue, Cosmopolitan, and Elle magazines as well as the New York Times, Washington Post, and Político, to name a few, and has appeared on The Late Show with Stephen Colbert, Anderson Cooper 360, Hardball, Meet the Press, and many other television news programs. She is the 2017 National Association of Black Journalists Journalist of the Year. White House reporter April Ryan thought she had seen everything in her two decades as a White House correspondent. And then came the Trump administration. In Under Fire: Reporting from the Front Lines of the Trump White House (Rowman & Littlefield Publishers) Ryan takes us inside the confusion and chaos of the Trump White House to understand how she and other reporters adjusted to the new normal. She takes us inside the policy debates, the revolving door of personnel appointments, and what it is like when she, as a reporter asking difficult questions, finds herself in the spotlight, becoming part of the story.

MIAMI BOOK FAIR CELEBRATES 35TH ANNIVERSARY WITH POSTER CREATED BY MIAMI-BASED MURALIST

LUIS VALLE

Also known as El Chan Guri, Valle also painted the image on the wall of a bus stop shelter at the Miami Dade College's Wolfson Campus, home of the Fair, beautifying the space while creating awareness, and bringing people together. The Fair threw a celebration — a community paint-in featuring live music, arts-making and free books — on the day Valle finished the mural.

Valle is deeply involved in the Miami art scene, and is a well-respected member of the community. He works closely with grass-roots organizations, creating murals and art pieces throughout South Florida and the U.S., Latin America and the Caribbean. His style can be easily recognized, as it is a blend of influences from indigenous cultures, psychology, shamanism, religion, and spirituality.

CRIMINAL? OR A PUBLIC HEALTH CRISIS? NEWS AND WHAT INFLUENCES HOW WE TALK ABOUT DRUGS IN AMERICA

10:30 a.m. / Room 3209 (Bldg. 3, 2nd Floor)

The opiate crisis has made headlines across the country as journalists and editors seek to humanize the story of users and source the mountain of prescription drugs that are being consumed. Was the crack crisis covered differently? Did the race and social status of the users in each epidemic, and the urban vs. corporate manufacture of the drugs, impact the coverage? How do the answers to these questions contribute to the distrust some Americans have in reporters and media companies? How do attitudes toward reporting on the evolving story reflect or mirror the ambivalence some in the public have toward journalism today? Panelists: MARIA E. LEN-RÍOS, PH.D., Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Professor in the Advertising & Public Relations Department at the Henry W. Grady College of Journalism and Mass Communication, University of Georgia; EARNEST L. This will be a spirited and provocative conversation about the future of our democracy, featuring SARAH KENDZIOR, a regular on MSNBC's AM Joy and author of The View from Flyover Country; DAVID CAY JOHNSTON, a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and author of The Making of Donald Trump; and STEVE ALMOND, New York Times best-selling author of Bad Stories: What the Hell Just Happened to Our Country.

THE LIVING AND THE DEAD: A CONVERSATION PRESENTED BY THE LEON LEVY CENTER FOR BIOGRAPHY

3 p.m. / Room 8202 (Bldg. 8, 2nd Floor)

The task of the biographer is to resurrect the dead—or so we think—to bring back to life a figure who has receded from our consciousness. This has been the life's work of two of our most distinguished biographers. Stacy Schiff has reached back (with the exception of her book on Vera Nabokov) to the remote reaches of time, from Cleopatra to the Salem Witches and Ben Franklin. Kai Bird has chosen figures closer to our own time—Robert Oppenheimer, the McBundy brothers, and now a still-living subject, Jimmy Carter. You could say that Schiff's subjects are more dead. How does proximity affect the biographer's method? Is there an advantage to having the excess of documentation offered up by the living and near-living? Or does the biographer drown in the research? By knowing more, do we end up knowing less? Maybe knowing less is an advantage: it forces us to invent, or at least conjecture in a responsible way. Clearly, on the evidence of these two accomplished biographers, both methods work. With STACY SCHIFF (The Witches: Suspicion, Betrayal, and Hysteria in 1692 Salem), KAI BIRD (The Good Spy: The Life and Death of Robert Ames), and JAMES ATLAS (The Shadow in the Garden: A Biographer's Tale).

3:30 p.m. / Room 8301 (Bldg. 8, 3rd Floor)

In this panel, academics and experts in the literary field will speak to the issue of Haitian migration, racial, gender, and national identity, and ultimately, of life in the balance. With PAURIS JEAN-BAPTISTE (writer), PIERRE BUTEAU (historian), INÉMA JEUDI (writer), and CLAUDE CHARLES (ethnologist). Moderated by MARLEINE BASTIEN, Executive Director of FANM./ Se yon bagay ki rive souvan: moun ki kite peyi yo pèdi nòm kiltirèl, koutim relijye, ak sistèm ankadreman sosyal yo. Adaptasyon a yon nouvo kilti mennen chanjman nan idantite ak nan konsèp yon moun genyen de tèt li. Nan ka Ayiti, ki konsekans chanjman sa yo genyen sou peyi zansèt nou yo — ak kominote ayisyen yo nan dyaspora a? Nan panèl sa a, pwofesè inivèsite ak ekspè nan domèn literati pral pale de kesyon migrasyon ayisyen an—de ras, de sèks, idantite nasyonal... epi alafen, de lavi nan balans lan. Avèk PAURIS JEAN-BAPTISTE (ekriven), PIERRE BUTEAU (istòrien), INÉMA JEUDI (ekriven), ak CLAUDE CHARLES (etnològ). Animatè: MARLEINE BASTIEN, Direktè egzekitif FANM.

WHETHER YOU'RE THE PARENT OF A CHILD JUST LEARNING THEIR ABCS OR A TEENAGER IN LOVE WITH THE HOTTEST FANTASY SERIES, Miami Book

Fair has something for you. For 35 years, the Fair has been committed to fostering a love of reading in children.

Why? Because studies show what we all know — good readers become good students, lifelong learners, and great citizens.

GENERATION GENIUS gathers all of the Fair's literacy and learning programs for children, tweens, and teens under one banner. All year long, Miami Book Fair's Generation Genius programs, such as Read to Learn Books for Free, distribute thousands of free children's books throughout Miami-Dade County.

- On Friday, November 16, GENERATION GENIUS SCHOOL FIELD TRIPS bring nearly 9,000 students from all over Miami-Dade County to the Fair to meet their favorite authors (and receive free books!)
- TWEENS AND TEENS will find a lineup of bestselling authors in fantasy, action, horror, and graphic novels.

- Create your own books, explore digital worlds, and design a Japanese kimono — it's all happening in the POP-UP FUN ROOMS in Children's Alley.
- MR. WEMBLY WORDSMITH returns to his AUTHOR TENT in Children's Alley with a new lineup of children's authors!
- PATH: PRESERVING, ARCHIVING & TEACHING HIP HOP, INC. puts hands, hips, heads, and hearts on the path to hip hop enlightenment.
- Check out RAINBOW CIRCUS' talented troupe — you may just want you run away and join them!

Sponsored by  The Children's Trust

- ROVING PERFORMANCES: Stand out in a crowd with STILT WALKERS. CIRKO TEATRO presents the hilarious local favorite El show de Enriqueta y Agapito. AB VERITATEM THEATRE presents classic children's theatre pieces. COTE COMPOSTO performs Charlie Chaplin. AREA STAGE COMPANY performs popular musical theatre tunes. TEATRO DOBLE takes us on a deep dive with the ocean's most iconic sea creatures. CREATIVE STAGE PRODUCTIONS taps into the imagination of children through improv. RockHill Publishing LLC

The name RockHill symbolizes a publishing house built on solid foundation, the Rock, and above the littered landscape, the Hill, to give clear vision. Not so high as to be unattainable, or unable to see the small gems among the big stones. The logo of a dragon perched upon the rock also conveys a dual meaning. First dragons find themselves in multiple cultures across the world showing the universality of ideas. Secondly, dragons are both the protectors and defenders of the realm. We publish Adult Fiction, Fantasy, Romance, and Science Fiction by new and established authors.
